This disclosure statement is provided by I.C.S. Industria Costruzione Stampi S.p.A. to its clients in order to inform them herewith on the collection and use of their personal data.

The Data Controller is I.C.S. Industria Costruzione Stampi S.p.A., P.IVA 00444910186, headquarters located at Via Maura Ponti snc, 27010, Copiano (PV), Italy. Interested parties may send requests to the company owner as follows: telephone 0382975001, email info@ics-spa.it, PEC (Italian Certified Email) ics-spacopiano@pec.it.

Purposes of data collection and use. Personal data is used for the following objectives:

1. To establish and carry out the contractual relationship with the client, including related administrative and accounting activities;
2. Fulfillment of legal obligations;
3. Recovery of credit, legal defense and related activities;
4. Evaluation and verification of credit;
5. Direct marketing (sending company newsletter and promotional announcements).

Legal justification. The collection and use of personal data is legitimate based on the following conditions:

1. The fulfillment of the contract as stated in Objective n. 1;
2. To fulfil legal obligations as stated in Objective n. 2;
3. For legitimate interests as defined in Objectives 3-4-5.

The transfer of personal data is necessary for contract execution, and partial, missing or incorrect data may make fulfillment of the contract impossible, incomplete or incorrect.

Data recipients. The personal data of the client may be communicated, for the objectives listed herewith, to the following categories of recipient: agents, professional consultants and advisors (legal, accountants, and other consultants), consumer information companies, legal authorities and oversight entities, information technology support companies, transportation and logistics companies, and credit and insurance institutions.

Length of data retention. The period of data retention will be equal to that of the contractual relationship, and the data will be kept for a period of no more than 10 years, in accordance with the law, as well as to guarantee legitimate legal interests of the company owner. The use of personal data for marketing purposes will be for 24 months from the expression of consent or from the beginning of the business relationship.

Rights. The parties involved have the right to request from the company: access to their personal data, its deletion, the correction of incorrect data, the completion of incomplete or missing data, the extent of its use, the transfer of their data, to express their opposition to how the data is used in the case of legitimate interests of the company, the revocation of consent as related to such and for marketing purposes. In the case of revocation of consent to the use of personal data for marketing purposes, the conditions are as described in the relative articles of Regulation (EU) n. 2016/679. In order to exercise their rights, the parties concerned may send their requests by email to info@ics-spa.it.

The parties concerned also have the right of making a complaint to the Government Authority in which they usually reside or work, or in the country in which the presumed violation took place.
